

Update to CITI Course, Learner Group 3

The HRPP Office has updated the CITI course, Learner Group 3, which was created for IRB Members and IRB staff training. On 7/2/2024, the CITI course, Learner Group 3 was retired from further use, Learner Group 3 users will not be able to renew training for this course. Current Learner Group 3 training will remain valid until it expires.

Human Subject Research team members will need to select and complete a CITI course that best aligns with their research prior to the expiration of the Learner Group 3 training. The CITI course options are Biomedical Research, Biomedical Research and Good Clinical Practices, and Social Behavioral Research.

Human Subject Research team members who completed Learner Group 3 and have current training with one of the CITI courses, Biomedical Research, Biomedical Research and Good Clinical Practices, and Social Behavioral Research do not need to select another course for completion but will need to complete the refresher for the